

GenAI Newsletter June #2 – Can’t wait for robots to fold my laundry!

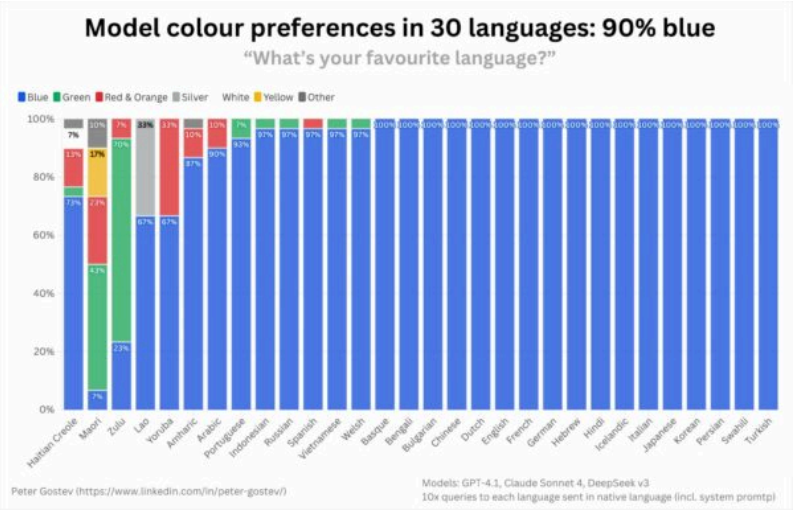

Hi hi AI enthusiasts, Get ready to blast off into the wonderfully weird world of GenAI! This edition is packed with mind-bending breakthroughs, from robots learning to fold laundry (no, seriously!) to AI spotting plant diseases before they even get a sniffle. We're also looking at how AI is creating totally new job titles (prompt ethnographer, anyone?) and stirring up some wild debates about privacy and copyright. So buckle up, because the future is here, and it's powered by some seriously smart tech!
